

James A. Dickson Esq.
(of Boston)

June 5. 1843 in London

Monday Morn<sup>g</sup>
Rev: A A Phelps,

Dear Sir

44

I regret that I was not home when you call'd on Saturday - I dined at Fenchley & did not return to town untill the evn<sup>g</sup> -

I would do myself the pleasure of calling on you this morn<sup>g</sup> but there is a vessel to clear for Boston to day by which I am sending some goods & keeps me busy, although I am scarcely able to attend to it having suffer'd severely from a violent cold which has produc'd Influenza.

I hope that you have been well & enjoy'd yourself, although the weather has been very unfavorable.

I am quite tired of it & shall hasten my return.

Yours truly
James A. Jackson
